

A place that is welcoming and respectful with a wonderful sense of community, St. James' School takes pride in its diversity and commitment to Episcopal education. In the mid-Wilshire section of Los Angeles, St. James' is a mission of St. James' Episcopal Church.

Founded more than forty years ago to provide the children of the neighborhood a challenging curriculum in a spiritually based context, St. James' has kept to its original mission while preparing students for the most competitive secondary schools in the city.

St. James' enrolls 345 students in Preschool through Grade Six. Along with strong training in core academics, the School offers enrichment through classes in the arts, in the sciences, in religion, in Spanish, in library, and in physical education.

St. James' School is seeking a full-time Spanish Teacher for the 2009-2010 academic year.

Minimum requirements:

- BA or BS degree
- A minimum of three years of full-time experience teaching Spanish in an accredited elementary, middle, or high school
- Experience planning Spanish curriculum, highly desirable
- Excellent command of oral and written English and Spanish
- Native fluency or formal ESL training highly desirable
- Sound understanding of and affection for elementary-age children
- Professional demeanor; courteous, responsible, creative, positive disposition
- Strong recommendations from previous teaching supervisors
- Candidates with experience in intercultural schools preferred.

The School encourages applicants of diverse ethnic backgrounds.

Compensation is competitive with full benefits.

Candidates should send by e-mail a resume, letter of interest, and the names and phone numbers of five references to jobs@sjsla.org. Applications will be considered until the position is filled.

St. James' School is an equal opportunity employer.